DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 02/05/03 has been entered.

Specification

2. The corrected or substitute specification received on 01/07/03. The lengthy specification has not been checked to the extent necessary to determine the presence of all possible minor errors. Applicant's cooperation is requested in correcting any errors of which applicant may become aware in the specification.

3. The proposed drawing correction and/or the proposed substitute sheets of drawings, filed on 8/12/02 has been approved. A proper drawing correction or corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The correction to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-30 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 1-30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over applicant's admitted prior art in combination with Chen U.S. Patent No. 5,453,406.

The applicant's admitted prior art for the TFT formation to form a display device having pixel electrodes and an insulative layer over the pixel electrodes is similar to the instant invention, having use of an organic material where a low dielectric property is considered (the instant specification, page 2, second paragraph) but lacking the second leveling layer over the insulative layer (instant invention's specification page 7).

The Chen reference discloses a method for producing a planar surface (col. 2, lines 64-67) wherein the thickness of a first leveling film 40 (2,000-3,000 Angstroms, col. 6, lines 1-10) formed above a wiring 34 is thinner than that of a second leveling film 42 (4,000-6,000 Angstroms, col. 6, line 53-54) formed on the first leveling film. Both first and second leveling films are formed by spin coating and by the same material (col. 6, line 30). The method could be used to coat a display device (MPEP 2111.02).

Although Chen uses inorganic SOG material for the insulative layer, the applicant states "an organic material where a low dielectric property is considered" (the instant specification, page 2, second paragraph) and "a polyimide resin, an acrylic resin, a resin containing a siloxane structure, or an inorganic SOG material can be used" (instant specification's page 7, third paragraph) in such a manner that organic or inorganic materials are interchangeable.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to combine the teaching of applicant's admitted prior art and the Chen's method, using organic materials for the two leveling films, to enable formation of the insulative layer of the applicant's admitted prior art process using the process of Chen and furthermore to achieve increased planarity over the formed TFT.

Choice of thickness of the leveling layers would depend on many other factors such as the gap between the protruded elements or the height of the protruded element.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to apply the appropriate thickness such as the thickness in the ranges as claimed into the process of Chen as the thickness would be selected in accordance with the surface planarization art as taught by Chen.

Conclusion

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
